

John 10:42

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And many believed on him there.

Analysis

And many believed on him there (καὶ πολλοὶ ἐπίστευσαν εἰς αὐτὸν ἐκεῖ, kai polloi episteusan eis auton ekei)—The phrase πολλοὶ ἐπίστευσαν (polloi episteusan, 'many believed') indicates saving faith: ἐπίστευσαν εἰς αὐτόν (episteusan eis auton, 'believed into Him') uses the preposition εἰς (eis, 'into'), signifying commitment to Christ's person, not mere intellectual assent. The location marker ἐκεῖ (ekei, 'there') contrasts this receptive region with Jerusalem's rejection.

This verse demonstrates the sovereignty of evangelism: where John faithfully witnessed and Jesus performed authenticating works, many believed. The contrast is stark—Jerusalem's religious leaders, seeing the same evidence, sought to kill Him; simple people in Perea, remembering John's testimony and witnessing Jesus's works, believed. Faith isn't about access to evidence but willingness to submit to truth.

Historical Context

This mass belief in Perea (Transjordan) contrasts with John 12:37—in Jerusalem, 'though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him.' Geography and social status don't determine faith, but heart receptivity does. These Perean believers formed part of the growing movement that would become the church.

Study Questions

1. Why did many in Perea believe while Jerusalem's religious elite rejected—what made the difference?
2. How does the combination of faithful witness (John) and authenticating works (Jesus) create optimal conditions for faith?
3. What does this verse teach about evangelism—that success isn't technique but faithfulness, with God granting the results?
