

John 13:38

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Jesus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake?
Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

Analysis

Jesus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? (ἀποκρίνεται Ἰησοῦς· Τὴν ψυχήν σου ὑπὲρ ἐμοῦ θήσεις, apokrinetai Iēsous· Tēn psychēn sou hyper emou thēseis)—Jesus questions Peter's confident self-assessment (13:37). The verb θήσεις (thēseis, 'will you lay down') echoes Jesus's own statement about laying down His life (John 10:11, 15). Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice (ἀμὴν ἀμὴν λέγω σοι, οὐ μὴ ἀλέκτωρ φωνήσῃ ἔως οὗ ἀρνήσῃ με τρίς, amēn amēn legō soi, ou mē alektōr phōnēsē heōs hou arnēsē me tris)—The double ἀμὴν (amēn, 'verily') emphasizes certainty. Peter will deny (ἀρνήσῃ, arnēsē, 'deny, disown') Jesus τρίς (tris, 'three times') before dawn.

This prophecy reveals Jesus's omniscience and Peter's overconfidence. Peter genuinely intended loyalty but didn't know his own weakness. Jesus's prediction isn't cruel but preparatory—knowing Peter will fail yet be restored teaches that discipleship depends on Christ's keeping power, not human strength. Peter's restoration (John 21:15-19) would prove grace triumphs over failure.

Historical Context

This occurred in the Upper Room during the Last Supper, hours before Peter's actual denials (John 18:15-27). Peter's self-confidence was characteristic—he repeatedly spoke impulsively (Matthew 14:28; 16:22; 17:4). Yet Jesus chose him to lead the church, demonstrating God uses broken, restored sinners, not perfect saints.

Study Questions

1. How does Peter's overconfidence warn against trusting our own strength rather than depending on Christ's sustaining grace?
2. What does Jesus's foreknowledge of Peter's failure yet continued investment in him teach about God's patient discipleship?
3. How should Christians respond when we fail Christ—with despair like Judas or repentance like Peter?
