

John 2:23

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, in the feast day, many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did.

Analysis

Many believed during the Passover feast 'when they saw the miracles which he did.' This sign-based faith was genuine but inadequate. Jesus performed miracles, people believed—but Jesus' response (verse 24) shows this faith is immature. Signs can produce belief, but belief based solely on miracles may not endure. True faith trusts Christ's word, not merely His works.

Historical Context

This is the first mention of 'many' believing in Jesus. Yet John distinguishes levels of faith throughout his Gospel. Those who believe because of signs may fall away when signs cease. The disciples who 'believed the scripture and the word' (verse 22) have a more stable foundation than those who merely saw miracles.
