

John 21:16

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

He saith to him again the second time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

Analysis

Christ's second question intensifies the examination of Peter's love. The command changes from 'lambs' to 'sheep', possibly indicating care for both young and mature believers. The repetition emphasizes the centrality of love in ministry—without genuine love for Christ, shepherding His flock becomes mere profession. Peter's response 'thou knowest that I love thee' appeals to Christ's omniscience rather than claiming great love.

Historical Context

The shepherd metaphor was familiar to Peter, who later writes about elders as shepherds (1 Peter 5:1-4). Jesus is the Chief Shepherd; under-shepherds must love Him to properly care for His flock.
