

John 3:11

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness.

Analysis

Jesus contrasts earthly and heavenly testimony: 'We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness.' The plural 'we' may include the disciples or the Trinity—Father, Son, and Spirit. Jesus' testimony comes from firsthand divine knowledge, yet 'ye receive not.' The problem isn't insufficient evidence but unwilling hearts. Truth is rejected despite its authority and clarity.

Historical Context

Jesus claims eyewitness knowledge of heavenly realities (verse 13). His testimony is unique—no other teacher speaks from personal observation of divine truth. Yet Israel's leaders reject this testimony. The pattern continues: those with most religious advantage often prove most resistant to spiritual truth.

Study Questions

1. Why do those with the most religious background sometimes resist new spiritual truth?

2. What distinguishes Jesus' testimony from all other religious teachers?
