

John 4:17

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, Thou hast well said, I have no husband:

Analysis

The woman's response 'I have no husband' is technically true but deliberately evasive. Jesus' commendation 'Thou hast well said' acknowledges her literal truthfulness while preparing to reveal deeper knowledge. This shows how Christ's omniscience penetrates our half-truths and self-justifications.

Historical Context

Mosaic law permitted divorce but regulated it (Deuteronomy 24:1-4). The woman's situation—multiple divorces and current cohabitation—exceeded normal patterns and would have marked her as morally compromised in both Jewish and Samaritan culture.

Study Questions

1. How do we offer technically true statements that nonetheless hide deeper realities?
2. What comfort and warning come from Christ's complete knowledge of our circumstances and choices?
