

John 5:38

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.

Analysis

Jesus diagnoses the root problem: 'Ye have not his word abiding in you.' Possessing Scripture differs from having God's word 'abiding' (dwelling, remaining) within. Their proof? 'Whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.' Genuine possession of God's word produces faith in Christ; rejection of Christ reveals the word's absence regardless of biblical knowledge.

Historical Context

The Jewish leaders prided themselves on Torah knowledge yet rejected its culmination in Christ. This paradox—expert knowledge without spiritual understanding—demonstrates that Scripture knowledge differs from having God's word internally transforming us.

1. What is the difference between knowing Scripture and having God's word 'abiding' in us?

2. How does response to Christ reveal whether God's word truly dwells within us?
