

John 6:38

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me.

Analysis

'For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me.' Jesus' heavenly origin grounds His authority. His mission is pure submission—not self-will but the Father's will. This models the obedience He requires of followers. His 'coming down' asserts pre-existence; His obedience demonstrates perfect Sonship. The incarnation was not Jesus' personal project but the Father's sending.

Historical Context

This claim to heavenly origin would become increasingly offensive (verse 41). It asserts what the prologue declared (1:1-14)—the Word was with God, was God, and became flesh. Jesus' self-description as 'sent' appears frequently in John, emphasizing His mission consciousness.
