

John 6:68

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life.

Analysis

'Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life.' Peter's response expresses both loyalty and logic. Where else could they go? Other teachers, philosophies, and religions offer less. Jesus alone has words of eternal life. Peter doesn't claim full understanding but recognizes exclusive sufficiency. There is no alternative that offers what Jesus provides.

Historical Context

Peter often spoke for the Twelve, sometimes rashly. Here his confession is profound. He acknowledges confusion about Jesus' teaching but certainty about Jesus' uniqueness. This becomes a model response when following seems difficult —where else would we go? No one else offers eternal life.

Study Questions

---

1. What does Peter's 'where else would we go?' reveal about recognizing Christ's uniqueness?

2. How can we remain committed when we don't fully understand?
