

John 8:14

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Jesus answered and said unto them, Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go.

Analysis

Jesus responds that His self-testimony is valid because He knows His origin and destiny - He came from the Father and returns to Him. The Pharisees' ignorance of His identity disqualifies their judgment. True self-knowledge and knowledge of God make Christ's testimony uniquely reliable. The Reformed emphasis on divine revelation finds expression here - only God can reliably testify about God.

Historical Context

Jesus' claim to know His origin ('whence I came') asserts preexistence and divine origin, directly claiming deity in a way His audience understood but rejected.
