

John 8:16

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me.

Analysis

---

When Jesus judges, His judgment is true because it's united with the Father's judgment. The phrase 'I am not alone' emphasizes the perfect unity between Father and Son. Reformed theology treasures this truth: Christ's work perfectly represents the Father's will. There's no division in the Godhead, no tension between Old Testament God and New Testament Jesus. Their judgment is unified and therefore true.

Historical Context

The unity of Father and Son in judgment addresses Jewish concerns about Jesus' authority. He doesn't judge independently but in perfect harmony with the Father, validating His divine authority.
