

John 9:10

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Therefore said they unto him, How were thine eyes opened?

Analysis

The people ask the healed man how his eyes were opened - seeking natural explanation for supernatural healing. His response is simple and factual: Jesus made clay, anointed my eyes, I washed and received sight. This straightforward testimony to Christ's work demonstrates effective witness - simply telling what Jesus did without embellishment or theological complexity. Reformed evangelism values such direct testimony.

Historical Context

The questioning reveals the crowd's astonishment at the miracle. Born blindness was considered particularly incurable in ancient medicine, making Jesus' healing especially remarkable and undeniable.

Related Passages

Colossians 1:16 — All things created through Christ

Psalms 19:1 — Heavens declare God's glory

Study Questions

1. How can your testimony to Christ's work in your life be simple yet powerful?
2. What did Jesus do for you that you can tell others about?
3. Why is personal testimony often more convincing than theological argument?

Interlinear Text

ἔλεγον	οὖν	αὐτῷ	Πῶς	ἀνεώχθησάν	σου	οἱ
said they	Therefore	unto him	How	opened	thine	G3588
G3004	G3767	G846	G4459	G455	G4675

ὀφθαλμοί

eyes

G3788

From KJV Study • kjevstudy.org