

John 9:17

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, He is a prophet.

Analysis

'They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, He is a prophet.' The Pharisees turn to the man for his assessment. His answer—'He is a prophet'—represents growing understanding. He began knowing Jesus as 'a man' (verse 11); now he recognizes prophetic authority. By chapter's end, he will worship Jesus as Lord (verse 38). Faith grows through experience and reflection.

Historical Context

The progression from 'a man called Jesus' to 'a prophet' to 'Lord' shows developing faith. The man didn't immediately understand fully. His perception deepened through the controversy. Growth in understanding is normal; full comprehension isn't required for genuine faith.
