

John 9:21

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

But by what means he now seeth, we know not; or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age; ask him: he shall speak for himself.

Analysis

The parents deflect questions about the healing itself, directing inquirers to their son. 'He is of age' means he can testify for himself. Their fear limits their witness, but at least they don't deny the miracle. This contrasts with their son's growing boldness - as the chapter progresses, he becomes more forthright while they remain fearful.

Historical Context

Jewish custom considered age 13 (bar mitzvah) as legal adulthood when males could testify independently and be held accountable for their religious duties.

Study Questions

1. How does fear make you deflect spiritual conversations?
2. What would bolder witness look like in your circumstances?
3. How can you move from fearful silence to confident testimony?
