

Judges 20:40

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

But when the flame began to arise up out of the city with a pillar of smoke, the Benjamites looked behind them, and, behold, the flame of the city ascended up to heaven.

Analysis

Verse 40 details the aftermath of Benjamin's defeat. But when the flame began to arise up out of the city with a pillar of smoke, the Benjamites looked behind them, and, beh... The systematic destruction of Benjamin's territory represents the tragic outcome when civil war erupts among God's people—victory comes at devastating cost to the covenant community.

Historical Context

This verse describes the thorough nature of Benjamin's military defeat and the subsequent destruction of their tribal territory following the ambush strategy blessed by God after Israel's proper consultation.
