

Judges 6:22

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And when Gideon perceived that he was an angel of the LORD, Gideon said, Alas, O Lord GOD! for because I have seen an angel of the LORD face to face.

Analysis

Gideon recognizes he has seen the Angel of the LORD face to face and fears death: 'Alas, O Lord GOD! for because I have seen an angel of the LORD face to face.' This terror reflects the consistent biblical teaching that sinful humans cannot see God and live (Exodus 33:20, Judges 13:22, Isaiah 6:5). The exclamation 'Alas!' (ahai, אָהָי) expresses profound distress. Gideon's fear demonstrates growing theological awareness—he now understands the magnitude of his encounter. This crisis moment parallels Isaiah's temple vision ('Woe is me! for I am undone') and Peter's confession ('Depart from me; for I am a sinful man').

Historical Context

The belief that seeing God resulted in death pervaded Israelite theology based on God's holiness and human sinfulness. Previous encounters with the Angel of the LORD by Hagar (Genesis 16:13), Jacob (Genesis 32:30), and Moses (Exodus 3:6) all produced similar shock at surviving divine encounter. This theological understanding undergirded the high priest's annual entrance into the Holy of Holies with trepidation and elaborate preparation (Leviticus 16).
