

Judges 6:33

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Then all the Midianites and the Amalekites and the children of the east were gathered together, and went over, and pitched in the valley of Jezreel.

Analysis

Following Gideon's reformation, Midian, Amalek, and 'children of the east' unite for another raid. The phrase 'gathered together' (ne'esfu, נִפְּסְדוּ) suggests organized military coalition rather than opportunistic raid. Their crossing Jordan and camping in Jezreel Valley indicates major invasion threatening Israel's most fertile agricultural region. The timing 'then'—immediately after Baal's altar destruction—raises questions: divine testing of newly reformed Gideon? Natural timing? Enemy response to perceived weakness during religious upheaval? The narrative treats this as the crisis for which God has been preparing Gideon.

Historical Context

The Jezreel Valley was Israel's breadbasket—a fifteen-mile-long, fertile plain between Galilee's hills and Samaria's mountains. Control of this valley meant control of crucial east-west trade routes and prime agricultural land. The coalition of Midianites (primary raiders), Amalekites (Israel's ancient enemy from Exodus 17), and eastern peoples (generic term for trans-Jordanian nomadic tribes) shows the invasion's scale. This alliance threatened Israel's survival.
