

Judges 8:25

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And they answered, We will willingly give them. And they spread a garment, and did cast therein every man the earrings of his prey.

Analysis

We will willingly give them (נָתַתִּין נָתַתִּין, naton nitten)—The emphatic Hebrew construction ('giving, we will give') expresses the people's eager enthusiasm to honor Gideon. They spread a garment (שִׁמְלָה, simlah), creating an impromptu collection point, and each warrior contributed earrings from his plunder.

The people's willingness reveals both genuine gratitude and dangerous man-centeredness. They readily give to Gideon what belongs ultimately to God. This echoes Israel's later demand for a king 'like all the nations' (1 Samuel 8:5)—the desire to exalt human leadership rather than trust divine governance. When God's people become more enthusiastic about honoring human instruments than glorifying God Himself, idolatry has already taken root in the heart even before physical idols are fashioned.

Historical Context

Ancient Near Eastern custom dictated that military leaders received a portion of war spoils. However, Israel's theocratic system meant that Yahweh was the true King and Warrior (Exodus 15:3), and spoils ultimately belonged to Him. The spreading of a garment recalls Achan's sin with the Babylonian garment (Joshua 7:21), foreshadowing similar covenant violation here.
