

Luke 1:34

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man?

Analysis

---

Mary's question 'How shall this be, seeing I know not a man?' demonstrates faith seeking understanding, not Zacharias-like doubt. The present tense 'know not' indicates her current virginity, while her question seeks explanation of method, not possibility. Mary doesn't question whether God can fulfill His word, but how He will accomplish it while preserving her virginity. This shows mature faith that accepts God's promise while seeking to understand His means. Her question invited instruction, not demanded proof, modeling the proper relationship between faith and understanding in Christian epistemology.

Historical Context

Mary's question reveals her understanding that she was still a virgin and that normal conception required marital relations. Unlike Zacharias who questioned based on natural impossibility, Mary sought understanding of the divine method, showing faith that God would preserve her integrity while fulfilling His promise.
