

Luke 11:36

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part dark, the whole shall be full of light, as when the bright shining of a candle doth give thee light.

Analysis

If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part dark, the whole shall be full of light, as when the bright shining of a candle doth give thee light (εἰ οὖν τὸ σῶμα σου ὅλον φωτεινόν, μὴ ἔχον μέρος τι σκοτεινόν, ἔσται φωτεινὸν ὅλον ὡς ὅταν ὁ λύχνος τῇ ἀστραπῇ φωτίζη σε)—Jesus describes total illumination, internal consistency where no 'part' (meros) remains in darkness. This represents complete spiritual transformation, not partial enlightenment. The simile compares comprehensive illumination to a lamp's bright flash (astrapē, lightning, sudden brightness).

This concludes Jesus's teaching on spiritual perception (vv.33-36). The solution to darkness isn't more external signs but internal transformation—a 'single' eye (v.34) fixed on God, resulting in total illumination. The Pharisees' problem wasn't lack of evidence but corrupted hearts preventing them from seeing truth.

Historical Context

Ancient oil lamps provided dim, flickering light compared to modern electric lighting. Jesus's reference to a lamp's 'bright shining' (astrapē, the same word for lightning) emphasizes the dramatic, comprehensive illumination God provides to those with pure hearts—stark contrast to fumbling in darkness despite external religious activity.

Study Questions

1. What areas of your life remain in 'partial darkness' despite claiming faith—hidden sins, unexamined beliefs, areas resisting transformation?
2. How does the promise of total illumination challenge compartmentalized Christianity separating 'spiritual' from 'secular' life?
3. What would it look like for Christ's light to illuminate every corner of your life—thoughts, motives, relationships, possessions?
