

Luke 2:39

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.

Analysis

Joseph and Mary's performance of 'all things according to the law of the Lord' demonstrates comprehensive obedience to God's revealed will. Their return to Nazareth 'their own city' indicates they fulfilled all Jerusalem temple obligations before resuming normal life. The phrase 'according to the law' emphasizes that obedience characterized Jesus's family from the beginning. Their return to Galilee (Nazareth) seemingly contradicts Matthew's account of Egypt flight, which chronologically follows this, showing Luke focuses on legal/temple obedience while Matthew emphasizes persecution/protection. Their faithfulness in ceremonial matters models that true faith expresses itself through careful adherence to God's requirements.

Historical Context

Completion of purification, presentation, and sacrificial obligations allowed the family to return home. Nazareth in Galilee became Jesus's hometown where He was raised, fulfilling the prophecy that He would be 'called a Nazarene' (Matt 2:23). Their obedience before returning shows prioritizing God's commands over personal comfort.
