

Mark 2:27

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath:

Analysis

Jesus states a foundational principle: 'The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath.' This revolutionizes Sabbath understanding. The verb 'was made' (ἐγένετο) indicates creation/institution—God designed Sabbath as gift to humanity. The prepositional phrase 'for man' expresses purpose—Sabbath exists to benefit humanity, not burden it. God instituted Sabbath rest as blessing: physical refreshment, spiritual renewal, worship opportunity. The Pharisees inverted this relationship, making humanity exist to serve Sabbath regulations. Jesus reclaims Sabbath's original purpose. Reformed theology applies this: all God's commands exist for human flourishing and God's glory.

Historical Context

Genesis 2:2-3 establishes Sabbath at creation. Exodus 20:8-11 commands Sabbath observance, commemorating creation. Deuteronomy 5:12-15 adds exodus motivation—remembering deliverance from slavery's ceaseless labor. By Jesus' time, 1,521 Sabbath regulations existed, transforming gift into burden. Early Christians met on Sunday, honoring resurrection. Sabbath principles remain (work-rest rhythm, worship priority), but Christian liberty governs application.
