

Mark 6:51

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And he went up unto them into the ship; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered.

Analysis

And he went up unto them into the ship; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered. Jesus entered the boat, 'the wind ceased'—demonstrating authority over nature. 'They were sore amazed' (ἐξίσταντο, existanto, utterly astonished) 'beyond measure' (ἐν ἑαυτοῖς περισσῶς, en heautois perissōs, exceedingly). Despite witnessing miracles continuously, they remained capable of fresh astonishment at Christ's power. This reveals both their dullness (should they still be amazed?) and appropriate wonder (God's works merit perpetual amazement).

Historical Context

The immediate wind cessation paralleled the stilling of storm (Mark 4:39), demonstrating consistent authority over nature. Ancient Jewish thought held only God could control wind and waves (Psalm 107:29). Their amazement despite prior miracles showed they still didn't fully grasp Jesus' identity. Early church fathers noted the disciples' slow learning process, finding encouragement that even intimate followers needed time to comprehend Christ's full deity.
