

Mark 7:6

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.

Analysis

He answered said Well has Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites as it is written This people honors me with lips but heart is far from me. Jesus quotes Isaiah 29:13. Hypocrites hupokritai actors wearing masks. This people houtosho laos. Honors tima external show. With lips tois cheilesin verbal confession. But de contrast. Heart kardia inner reality. Is far from me apechei long distance separation. External religion without internal reality. Form without substance. Going through motions. Reformed theology emphasizes distinction between form and power of religion. Outward observance does not equal salvation. Circumcision of heart not just flesh. True faith internal transformation visible in life but rooted in heart. External conformity without internal change is hypocrisy.

Historical Context

Pharisees criticized disciples for eating without washing hands (tradition not Torah requirement). Jesus responds by exposing their hypocrisy. External ritual without heart devotion is empty. Isaiah condemned similar problem 700 years earlier same issue persists. Human religion tends toward externalism ritual tradition at expense of heart. Medieval church fell into same trap. Reformation emphasized internal faith external works flow from inner reality not produce it. Sola fide by faith alone external religion cannot save. Must be born again internal transformation. Modern church battles same issue church attendance religious activity without genuine conversion relationship with Christ.
