

Matthew 13:37

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man;

Analysis

---

He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man (ὁ σπείρων τὸ καλὸν σπέρμα ἐστὶν ὁ υἱὸς τοῦ ἀνθρώπου, ho speirōn to kalon sperma estin ho huios tou anthrōpou). Jesus identifies Himself as the Sower using His favorite self-designation, 'Son of man' (Daniel 7:13-14)—emphasizing both His humanity and His eschatological authority as the one who will judge the world (v. 41).

The good seed (καλὸν σπέρμα, kalon sperma) represents quality and divine origin. Christ's sovereignty in sowing establishes that genuine believers are His work, not accidents or human productions. This counters human efforts to 'make' Christians or manufacture church growth—the Son of man alone creates true children of the kingdom (John 1:12-13).

Historical Context

Jesus's self-interpretation of the parable removes all ambiguity about the central figure. Spoken around AD 30-33, this teaching prepared disciples to understand His messianic mission as including not just physical ministry but spiritual kingdom-building through the gospel seed.

Study Questions

1. How does recognizing Christ as the Sower affect your understanding of evangelism and church growth strategies?
2. What does it mean practically that you are 'good seed' sown by the Son of man rather than a self-generated believer?
3. How should Christ's role as Sower inform your confidence (or lack thereof) in the security of His planting?
