

Matthew 14:13

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

When Jesus heard of it, he departed thence by ship into a desert place apart: and when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities.

Analysis

Jesus' response to John the Baptist's death—'he departed thence by ship into a desert place apart'—shows His humanity. He needed solitude to grieve and pray. Yet 'when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foot' demonstrates His compassion overriding personal need. This sets the context for the feeding miracle—Jesus' grief interrupted by needy multitudes whom He received with compassion rather than irritation.

Historical Context

John the Baptist's martyrdom signaled escalating opposition that would culminate in Jesus' own death. The desert place east of Bethsaida provided temporary refuge. The crowds' foot journey around the lake (possibly 5-10 miles) demonstrated desperate hunger for Jesus' teaching and healing.
