

Matthew 16:8

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Which when Jesus perceived, he said unto them, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread?

Analysis

---

O ye of little faith (ὀλιγόπιστοι)—oligopistos, Jesus's signature rebuke in Matthew (6:30, 8:26, 14:31), literally 'little-faiths.' Not faithless (apistos), but stunted, immature faith that knows truth yet fails to apply it. Jesus perceived (γινούς) their whispered reasoning—divine omniscience sees anxious hearts.

Why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread? Jesus exposes their faithless logic. After feeding thousands, worrying about one meal reveals profound spiritual blindness. The question format emphasizes the absurdity: 'Why are you calculating when you've witnessed divine multiplication?' This prepares for verses 9-10's reminder of recent miracles.

Historical Context

Jesus had just fed 5,000 (Matthew 14:13-21) and 4,000 (15:32-39) miraculously. The disciples participated in distributing multiplied bread both times—they held the evidence in their hands. Yet crossing the lake without provisions triggered immediate anxiety, showing how quickly miracle-memory fades under pressure.

Study Questions

1. Where is your faith 'little'—believing doctrinally but failing practically when tested?
2. What 'reasoning among yourselves' do you engage in that ignores God's demonstrated faithfulness?
3. How can you move from 'little faith' to mature trust that remembers past provision?
