

Matthew 21:24

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authority I do these things.

Analysis

I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authority I do these things—Jesus employs rabbinic counter-questioning (common in Jewish debate) to expose His opponents' hypocrisy. The Greek ἐρωτήσω ὑμᾶς (erōtēsō hymas, 'I will ask you') matches their interrogation.

Jesus wasn't evading but revealing. His counter-question about John's baptism (v.25) would force them to acknowledge divine authentication they'd rejected. If they admitted John's ministry was from heaven, they'd condemn themselves for ignoring him. Their dilemma exposed the real issue: not Jesus's credentials but their hard hearts.

Historical Context

Rabbis commonly answered questions with questions to expose faulty premises or teach deeper truth. Jesus used this technique throughout His ministry (Matt 22:41-46). The Socratic method wasn't evasion but pedagogical wisdom, forcing self-examination rather than mere intellectual debate.

Study Questions

1. When defending truth, how can you follow Jesus's example of asking diagnostic questions rather than just arguing?
2. What question is God asking you that you're avoiding because the honest answer would require uncomfortable change?
