

Matthew 24:30

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven:
and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

Analysis

The cosmic sign 'then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory' describes Christ's visible, glorious return. 'Sign of the Son of man' (possibly the cross or Shekinah glory) announces His coming. 'All tribes... mourn' indicates universal recognition—both mourning of the lost (judgment) and godly grief (repentance). 'Coming in clouds' echoes Daniel 7:13, identifying Jesus as the divine Son of man receiving kingdom authority.

Historical Context

This contrasts with Jesus' first coming in humility. His second coming will be unmistakable—visible, glorious, powerful. The mourning tribes recall Zechariah 12:10 about Israel recognizing their pierced Messiah. Every eye will see Him (Revelation 1:7)—no secret rapture but public, global manifestation. This is the blessed hope.
