

Matthew 26:37

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And he took with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and very heavy.

Analysis

---

He took with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee—the same inner circle who witnessed the Transfiguration (Matthew 17:1) now witness the agony. James and John, who boasted they could drink Christ's cup (Matthew 20:22), would now see what that cup truly contained. Began to be sorrowful and very heavy (λυπεῖσθαι καὶ ἀδημονεῖν, lupeisthai kai adēmonein)—the Greek conveys deep grief and distressing anxiety, an overwhelming spiritual anguish.

The word adēmonein suggests being 'away from home,' utterly disoriented—the spotless Son experiencing alienation from the Father as he contemplated bearing sin. This was not physical fear of death but horror at becoming sin itself (2 Corinthians 5:21), the cup of divine wrath against all human rebellion.

Historical Context

Peter, James, and John formed Jesus's closest circle throughout his ministry. They alone witnessed the raising of Jairus's daughter (Mark 5:37), the Transfiguration (Matthew 17:1-8), and now the Gethsemane agony. This progression reveals Christ's deliberate discipleship pattern—from resurrection power to transfiguration glory to substitutionary suffering, preparing them to understand the full scope of his messianic mission.

Study Questions

1. Why did the same disciples who saw Christ's glory on the mountain of Transfiguration need to witness his agony in the garden?
2. What does the intensity of Christ's emotional distress reveal about the nature of the atonement he was about to accomplish?
3. How does understanding that Jesus's sorrow was spiritual (bearing sin) rather than merely physical (fearing death) deepen your appreciation of his sacrifice?
