

Matthew 8:5

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him,

Analysis

The centurion's approach demonstrates remarkable faith from an unexpected source—a Roman officer occupying Israel. His words 'Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented' show concern for a servant (possibly slave) rare among Romans. His coming to Jesus despite being a Gentile and military commander shows humility and desperation overcoming pride and prejudice.

Historical Context

Centurions commanded 100 Roman soldiers and were the backbone of Roman military. Most Jews despised Romans as oppressors and Gentile unbelievers. This centurion built the Capernaum synagogue (Luke 7:5), showing unusual respect for Jewish faith. Palsy (paralysis) was incurable.
