

Matthew 9:22

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

But Jesus turned him about, and when he saw her, he said,
Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole.
And the woman was made whole from that hour.

Analysis

Jesus' response 'Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole' publicly affirms the woman He could have left anonymous. The term 'Daughter' shows tender acceptance, replacing her shame with belonging. 'Thy faith hath made thee whole' credits her trust, though Jesus' power effected the healing. The phrase 'from that hour' emphasizes instantaneous, complete restoration—both physical healing and social restoration.

Historical Context

Jesus could have let her leave anonymously, but He publicly restored her dignity. His declaration that her faith healed her protected her from accusations of magic or superstition. 'Made whole' (Greek: sōzō) means both physical healing and spiritual salvation—she received both.
