

Matthew 9:35

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people.

Analysis

Matthew summarizes Jesus' comprehensive ministry: 'teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people' (διδασκων εν ταις συναγωγαῖς αυτων και κηρυσσων το ευαγγελιον της βασιλειας και θεραπευων πασαν νοσον και πασαν μαλακίαν). Three components: teaching (διδασκων, systematic instruction), preaching (κηρυσσων, proclamation/heralding), and healing (θεραπευων, medical care). Jesus addresses both spiritual and physical needs. 'Gospel of the kingdom' identifies the message: God's reign breaking into history through Jesus. 'Every sickness and every disease' emphasizes comprehensive healing—no condition beyond Jesus' power. This holistic ministry models mission: proclamation plus demonstration, word plus deed, spiritual truth plus practical compassion.

Historical Context

Jewish synagogues were community centers for worship, teaching, and legal administration. Jesus used existing religious structures to reach Israel. His teaching authority amazed listeners (7:28-29) because He spoke with inherent authority rather than citing rabbis. Healing every disease demonstrated messianic credentials (Isaiah 35:5-6, 61:1-2). First-century Palestine had no public healthcare; the sick depended on family or begging. Jesus' healing ministry addressed desperate physical needs while authenticating His spiritual message. Early church continued this pattern of word and deed ministry.

Study Questions

---

1. How does Jesus' combination of teaching, preaching, and healing model holistic mission?
2. What is the relationship between proclaiming the gospel and demonstrating its power through compassionate action?
3. How can contemporary churches balance word-focused and deed-focused ministry?
