

Numbers 1:51

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And when the tabernacle setteth forward, the Levites shall take it down: and when the tabernacle is to be pitched, the Levites shall set it up: and the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.

Analysis

The Levites' responsibility to dismantle and transport the tabernacle emphasizes their mediating role between God's holiness and Israel's camp. The warning that 'the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death' underscores the seriousness of approaching God improperly. Only those consecrated for this service could handle holy things without incurring judgment. This foreshadows Christ's exclusive mediation—He alone provides safe access to God's presence, and attempts to approach God apart from Christ result in judgment.

Historical Context

The tabernacle's components were carefully assigned to Levitical clans: Kohathites carried the holy furniture, Gershonites transported the curtains and coverings, and Merarites handled the structural framework (Numbers 3-4). This division of labor ensured orderly movement.

Study Questions

1. How does the prohibition against unauthorized persons handling holy things illustrate that God determines how He may be approached?
2. In what ways does Levitical mediation point to Christ's exclusive role as our way to the Father?
