

Numbers 16:35

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And there came out a fire from the LORD, and consumed the two hundred and fifty men that offered incense.

Analysis

Simultaneous with earth swallowing rebels, 'there came out a fire from the LORD, and consumed the two hundred and fifty men that offered incense.' This dual judgment—earth and fire—demonstrated God's comprehensive authority over creation. That fire specifically targeted those presuming priestly ministry showed God's jealousy for proper worship and His ordained priesthood.

Historical Context

The 250 incense-offering rebels were tribal leaders who claimed equal holiness with Aaron (v.3). Their destruction by divine fire vindicated Aaron's exclusive priestly role and warned against presumptuous worship.

Study Questions

1. What does judgment on those who presume priestly ministry teach about approaching God rightly?
2. How does Christ's high priesthood provide the only legitimate access to God's presence?
