

Numbers 18:30

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Therefore thou shalt say unto them, When ye have heaved the best thereof from it, then it shall be counted unto the Levites as the increase of the threshingfloor, and as the increase of the winepress.

Analysis

Therefore thou shalt say unto them, When ye have heaved the best thereof from it, then it shall be counted unto the Levites as the increase of the threshingfloor, and as the increase of the winepress—The word heaved (בָּהָרִימָכֶם baharimakhem, when you lift up) describes the physical gesture of lifting offerings toward heaven, symbolizing presentation to God. The verb counted (נֶחְשָׁב nechshav, reckoned/credited) repeats from verse 27, emphasizing divine accounting that credited Levitical service equal to agricultural labor.

The phrase increase of the threshingfloor (תְּבוּאַת גֶּרֶן tev'u'at goren) and increase of the winepress (תְּבוּאַת יֵקֶב tev'u'at yekev) uses the word for 'produce/harvest,' affirming that ministry work yields genuine productivity deserving economic reward. This principle undergirds Paul's teaching that those who proclaim the gospel should receive their living from the gospel (1 Corinthians 9:14).

Historical Context

The heaving/lifting gesture in Israelite worship involved raising offerings with extended arms toward the tabernacle, symbolizing surrender to God before the gift was given to priests or placed on the altar. This physical act reinforced the theology that all giving flows through God to its final human recipients.
