

Numbers 22:3

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And Moab was sore afraid of the people, because they were many: and Moab was distressed because of the children of Israel.

Analysis

Moab's fear—"Moab was sore afraid of the people, because they were many"—reveals how God's blessing on Israel terrified surrounding nations. The Hebrew gur (dread/afraid) indicates existential terror. Moab saw Israel's numbers and concluded they faced unstoppable force. This fulfills God's promise to Abraham that his descendants would be numerous (Genesis 15:5) and that nations would fear them (Exodus 23:27). When God blesses His people, even their enemies recognize His hand, pointing to the day when every knee will bow to Christ (Philippians 2:10).

Historical Context

Moab descended from Lot through incest with his daughters (Genesis 19:36-37). Though related to Israel, Moab remained hostile. The Moabites had watched Israel defeat the Amorite kings Sihon and Og (Numbers 21:21-35), recognizing that conventional military might could not stop them. This drove Balak to seek spiritual weapons through Balaam's curses.
