

Numbers 3:31

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And their charge shall be the ark, and the table, and the candlestick, and the altars, and the vessels of the sanctuary wherewith they minister, and the hanging, and all the service thereof.

Analysis

The Kohathites' specific charge over the ark, table, candlestick, altars, and holy vessels represents the most sacred responsibility among the Levites. These were the objects that directly facilitated Israel's approach to God and God's manifestation among His people. The assignment of these most holy items to one clan demonstrates that even among those consecrated for service, God establishes varying levels of responsibility and corresponding holiness requirements.

Historical Context

The items entrusted to Kohathite care were the tabernacle's most sacred objects, those that dwelt in the Holy Place and Holy of Holies. The Kohathites could not touch or look upon these items directly (Numbers 4:15, 20) but transported them after priests had covered them, demonstrating extreme caution around holy things.

Study Questions

1. How does the Kohathites' sacred but dangerous charge illustrate that greater privilege comes with greater responsibility and risk?
2. What does the prohibition against touching or looking at uncovered holy things teach us about respecting God's holiness?
