

Numbers 31:16

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Behold, these caused the children of Israel, through the counsel of Balaam, to commit trespass against the LORD in the matter of Peor, and there was a plague among the congregation of the LORD.

Analysis

---

This verse reveals Balaam's wicked strategy: 'These caused the children of Israel, through the counsel of Balaam, to commit trespass against the LORD in the matter of Peor.' Unable to curse what God had blessed, Balaam taught Midian how to cause Israel to curse themselves through idolatry and sexual immorality. This 'doctrine of Balaam' (Rev 2:14) represents compromise with worldliness, teaching God's people to sin so judgment falls. The Hebrew 'ma'al' (trespass/unfaithfulness) indicates covenant violation - spiritual adultery. This passage warns that Satan's greatest weapon isn't external persecution but internal corruption through worldly enticement.

Historical Context

The Baal-Peor incident (Num 25) occurred at Shittim as Israel prepared to enter Canaan. Moabite and Midianite women invited Israelite men to sacrificial feasts involving ritual prostitution in Baal worship. This syncretism - attempting to worship both Yahweh and Baal - brought plague killing 24,000. Only when Phinehas executed judgment did the plague stop. This background explains the severity of judgment on Midian - they had deliberately sought Israel's spiritual destruction.
