

Numbers 4:15

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And when Aaron and his sons have made an end of covering the sanctuary, and all the vessels of the sanctuary, as the camp is to set forward; after that, the sons of Kohath shall come to bear it: but they shall not touch any holy thing, lest they die. These things are the burden of the sons of Kohath in the tabernacle of the congregation.

Analysis

The command that Kohathites must not touch the holy things lest they die demonstrates that proximity to holiness without proper mediation brings death, not blessing. Aaron's sons covered the sacred objects; only then could Kohathites transport them. This pictures the principle that sinful humanity cannot touch divine holiness directly—we require priestly mediation. Christ fulfills this role, covering our sins so we can approach God safely (Hebrews 10:19-22). The severity of the penalty underscores God's holiness and the seriousness of presumption.

Historical Context

The lethal danger of touching holy things was demonstrated when Uzzah touched the ark to steady it and died instantly (2 Samuel 6:6-7). David learned the hard way that God's commands for handling sacred things must be followed precisely. Later, when the ark was transported correctly by Levites using poles, God blessed the procession (2 Samuel 6:13-15).
