

Numbers 4:34

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And Moses and Aaron and the chief of the congregation numbered the sons of the Kohathites after their families, and after the house of their fathers,

Analysis

Moses and Aaron and the chief of the congregation numbered the sons of the Kohathites—The census (פָּקַד, paqad) served dual purposes: military registration and sacred service allocation. The Kohathites, descended from Levi's second son, bore the most holy objects of the tabernacle (ark, table, lampstand, altars) but could not look upon them unpacked (4:20) on pain of death.

After their families, and after the house of their fathers—Hebrew tribal structure (מִשְׁפָּחוֹת, mishpachot) ensured hereditary service roles. This census wasn't about ability but divine appointment through bloodline, anticipating Christ's qualification as High Priest through Judah's genealogy yet fulfilling Melchizedek's eternal priesthood (Hebrews 7).

Historical Context

Conducted at Sinai during Israel's second year after the Exodus (1445 BC traditional dating). The Kohathites' census occurred after instructions for their service (4:1-20) but before their actual duties commenced. Moses and Aaron, both Kohathites themselves, supervised the count under God's direct command.

Study Questions

1. How does God's use of hereditary service roles challenge modern meritocracy while still affirming that spiritual service requires divine calling?
2. What does the Kohathites' privilege (carrying holy objects) paired with restriction (not viewing them) teach about holy reverence in ministry?
