

Numbers 5:9

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And every offering of all the holy things of the children of Israel, which they bring unto the priest, shall be his.

Analysis

Every heave offering of holy things belonging to the priests establishes divine provision for those who serve at the altar. The Hebrew terumah (heave offering/contribution) indicates a portion lifted up and set apart for God, then given to His servants. This principle—that those who proclaim the gospel should live from the gospel (1 Corinthians 9:14)—undergirds ministerial support. The priests had no land inheritance; God Himself was their portion, materially expressed through these offerings.

Historical Context

The heave offering differed from the wave offering. The heave offering was lifted vertically as a gesture of presenting it to God, then given to the priests. This included portions of grain offerings, peace offerings, and various firstfruits. The system ensured the priesthood's material needs were met while they devoted full time to sacred service.
