

Numbers 6:15

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And a basket of unleavened bread, cakes of fine flour mingled with oil, and wafers of unleavened bread anointed with oil, and their meat offering, and their drink offerings.

Analysis

The basket of unleavened bread for the Nazirite offering represents purity and dedication. Leaven symbolizes sin throughout Scripture, so unleavened bread indicates sincerity and consecration. The cakes mixed with oil and wafers anointed with oil both point to the Holy Spirit's presence and enabling power. The variety of offerings—peace offerings alongside the unleavened bread—demonstrates that the Nazirite's vow culminates in fellowship with God. The Reformed understanding of sanctification is reflected here—separation from sin for the purpose of communion with God.

Historical Context

The Nazirite vow was voluntary, undertaken for a set period, representing special dedication to God. At the vow's completion, these offerings celebrated the faithful completion of the consecrated period and marked the return to normal life while commemorating the season of special devotion.
