

Numbers 7:1

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

And it came to pass on the day that Moses had fully set up the tabernacle, and had anointed it, and sanctified it, and all the instruments thereof, both the altar and all the vessels thereof, and had anointed them, and sanctified them;

Analysis

On the tabernacle's dedication day, 'Moses had fully set it up, and had anointed it, and sanctified it, and all the instruments thereof.' The Hebrew 'kalah' (fully/completely) emphasizes thorough completion according to God's exact pattern (Ex 25:9). The anointing oil consecrated the tabernacle for God's exclusive use, separating it from common use. This dedication occurred on the first day of the first month in the second year after the Exodus (Ex 40:17), making it a new beginning for Israel as a worshiping community. Christ is the ultimate tabernacle - God dwelling with humanity (John 1:14) - anointed with the Spirit and fully consecrated for redemptive ministry (Luke 4:18).

Historical Context

This chapter records the twelve tribal leaders' offerings over twelve days, each bringing identical gifts demonstrating equality before God. The total offerings were substantial: silver platters and bowls, gold spoons filled with incense, animals for sacrifices - all voluntarily given. The repetitive structure (each tribe's offering described identically) emphasizes that God values each tribe equally and records each contribution individually. This lavish dedication followed the enormous expense of building the tabernacle itself, showing Israel's priorities - worship before warfare or commerce.
