

Numbers 7:86

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

The golden spoons were twelve, full of incense, weighing ten shekels apiece, after the shekel of the sanctuary: all the gold of the spoons was an hundred and twenty shekels.

Analysis

The golden spoons were twelve, full of incense, weighing ten shekels apiece, after the shekel of the sanctuary: all the gold of the spoons was an hundred and twenty shekels (כֹּל־זָהָב הַכַּפּוֹת עֲשָׂרִים וּמֵאָה זָהָב, kol-zehav hakapot esrim ume'ah zahav)—The twelve golden spoons total 120 shekels (12×10), combining governmental perfection (twelve) with divine order (ten). Gold signifies deity, purity, and the imperishable; incense represents prayer and worship ascending to God.

The 120 shekels may allude to the 120 years of human longevity before the Flood (Genesis 6:3), or the 120 priests who sounded trumpets at Solomon's temple dedication (2 Chronicles 5:12). In the New Testament, 120 disciples waited in the upper room for Pentecost (Acts 1:15), representing the faithful remnant awaiting the Spirit. The incense-filled spoons prefigure the golden bowls of Revelation 5:8, where the prayers of the saints rise before God's throne.

Historical Context

The incense formula was divinely prescribed (Exodus 30:34-38) and forbidden for personal use. The golden spoons (or ladles) were specifically designed for offering incense on the golden altar before the veil. The total weight of 120 shekels represents substantial value, as gold was the most precious metal.

Study Questions

1. How does the connection between incense and prayer (Revelation 5:8) deepen our understanding of intercession as mediated worship?
2. What might the 120 shekels total symbolize, given Scripture's other uses of that number (Genesis 6:3, Acts 1:15)?
3. Why did God require identical incense from every tribe rather than allowing variety in this aspect of worship?
