

Philemon 1:25

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

Analysis

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen—ἡ χάρις τοῦ κυρίου ἡμῶν Ἰησοῦ Χριστοῦ μετὰ τοῦ πνεύματος ὑμῶν. ἀμήν (hē charis tou kyriou hēmōn Iēsou Christou meta tou pneumatos hymōn. amēn)—Paul's characteristic benediction. χάρις (charis, grace) is the letter's theological foundation and closing word. The entire Philemon situation requires grace: unmerited favor toward Onesimus (forgiveness), toward Paul (granting his request), toward all (gospel transformation of slavery).

μετὰ τοῦ πνεύματος ὑμῶν (meta tou pneumatos hymōn, with your spirit)—plural ὑμῶν (hymōn, your) addresses entire house church (v. 2), not just Philemon. πνεῦμα (pneuma, spirit) is human spirit needing divine grace's empowerment. ἀμήν (amēn, truly/so be it) ratifies prayer. Grace's presence with their spirits enables impossible obedience—forgiving runaway slaves, receiving them as brothers, transforming societal structures through gospel.

Historical Context

Ancient letters ended with health wishes or brief farewells. Paul Christianizes closing with grace benediction, appearing in all thirteen epistles. Grace is Christianity's signature—unmerited divine favor demonstrated supremely in Christ (2 Corinthians 8:9), applied personally through Spirit, producing transformed relationships. Philemon epitomizes grace applied: master forgiving slave, social superior receiving inferior as equal, property owner releasing claim because gospel transcends cultural categories.

Study Questions

1. How does grace (unmerited favor) function as your operating principle in difficult relationships and conflicts?
2. In what situations do you need Christ's grace "with your spirit" to enable otherwise impossible forgiveness or obedience?
3. How does Philemon's entire message apply Christ's grace to your current relationships—who is your "Onesimus" requiring grace-filled restoration?
