

Philippians 1:5

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

For your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now;

Analysis

---

For your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now (ἐπὶ τῇ κοινωνίᾳ ὑμῶν εἰς τὸ εὐαγγέλιον, epi tē koinōnia hymōn eis to euangelion)—The noun koinōnia ("fellowship, partnership, participation") signifies active sharing in gospel advance, not mere social camaraderie. The preposition eis ("in, into, for") suggests purpose or sphere: partnership toward or for the sake of the gospel.

This fellowship was concrete: financial support (4:15-16), prayer support (1:19), and shared suffering (1:30). From the first day until now (ἀπὸ τῆς πρώτης ἡμέρας ἄχρι τοῦ νῦν, apo tēs prōtēs hēmeras achri tou nyn) marks decade-plus faithfulness. Philippi partnered with Paul when no other church did (4:15), sending aid to Thessalonica, Corinth, and now Rome. Their consistency proved gospel-partnership genuine.

Historical Context

The 'first day' was around AD 49-50 when Paul, Silas, Timothy, and Luke arrived in Philippi (Acts 16:11-40). Lydia, a businesswoman, opened her home; a slave girl was delivered; a jailer's household converted. By AD 60-62 (this letter's date), Philippi had supported Paul's mission for over a decade—rare loyalty in the ancient world's patron-client culture.

Study Questions

1. What gospel-partnerships have you maintained faithfully 'from the first day until now'?
2. How is your 'fellowship' in the gospel more than attendance—involving active sacrifice and support?
3. Which missionaries or ministries could you partner with consistently as Philippi did with Paul?
