

Philippians 3:16

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule, let us mind the same thing.

Analysis

Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule, let us mind the same thing (πλὴν εἰς ὁ ἐφθάσαμεν, τῷ αὐτῷ στοιχεῖν, plēn eis ho ephthasa men, tō autō stoichein)—Plēn ("nevertheless, in any case") introduces qualification. Eis ho ephthāsamen ("to which we have attained")—whatever maturity level reached. Tō autō stoichein ("walk by the same rule")—stoicheō ("to be in line, march in formation, follow") suggests military order or measured pace. Tō autō ("the same") could mean same rule/standard (gospel) or same manner (pursuing Christ). Paul calls for consistency: live according to truth already understood, don't regress. While awaiting further revelation (v. 15b), walk faithfully in present light.

Historical Context

Military metaphor (stoicheō) pictures soldiers marching in formation—coordinated, disciplined, unified movement toward objective. Paul uses this for Christian living (Gal 5:25, 6:16; Rom 4:12). The command balances pursuit of growth (vv. 12-14) with faithfulness to present understanding. Ancient churches had varied maturity; Paul calls for unity in following gospel revealed thus far while trusting Spirit for progressive illumination.

Study Questions

1. What truth have you 'already attained' that requires faithful walking, not just knowing?
2. How do you balance pursuing further growth with living out present understanding?
3. What does 'walking by the same rule' (tō autō stoichein) look like in your church community?
