

Proverbs 11:20

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

They that are of a froward heart are abomination to the LORD: but such as are upright in their way are his delight.

Analysis

They that are of a froward heart are abomination to YHWH, but such as are upright in their way are His delight. God's emotional response to humans depends on their moral character - perverse hearts provoke His abhorrence; upright conduct brings His delight. This verse grounds ethics in theology - morality matters because it affects God's disposition toward us. Divine delight or disgust depends on human righteousness or wickedness.

Historical Context

Reflects covenant theology where God's blessing or curse followed obedience or rebellion. Divine favor wasn't arbitrary but responded to covenant faithfulness or violation.
