

Proverbs 12:5

Authorized King James Version (KJV)

The thoughts of the righteous are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceit.

Analysis

The thoughts of the righteous are right (mishpat - justice, judgment), but the counsels of the wicked are deceit. Righteous internal thought-life is upright; wicked counsel is deceptive. This verse addresses both thinking and advising - the righteous think justly and counsel truly; the wicked think perversely and counsel falsely. Character determines both internal reasoning and external advice given to others.

Historical Context

Reflects wisdom tradition's emphasis on heart-level righteousness, not mere external conformity. Righteous thinking produces righteous counsel; corrupt thinking produces corrupt counsel.
